equal, they at the same time stamp him as a man who works quietly, coutinuously and successfully, and as one who thinks thoroughly. He makes no mistakes in his plans. Such a man necessarily reflects honor con his State and people, and aromes a feeling of pride in the bosom of his fellow citizens; but the possession of these qualities convincingly ow him to be a master in his profession, and one whose extraordinary powers may be wielded to the detriment of his country and people. While we his country and people. While we do not accuse &r. Foster of any intentions which would dishonor the fair name he has so deservingly won by his masterly efforts, we do say that the immense power at which he grasps, and which he evidently in-tends to take the first steps in trying to get right here in our midst is a possession which should not be entrusted to any man who ever trod the free soil of America. Mr. Foster has been free to confess to many, in fact he has openly asserted it on our streets, that he is here for the purpose of building up a joint stock company for the manufacture of those machines, and then for the introducing of them into general use upon a very novel plan-a plan to which usury is a bright jewel. He says that agencies will be established throughout the length and breadth of our land; that each of these agents will be supplied with as many ma-chines as will be required to do the work in his district. This agent will make weekly returns to the company and pay over thereto his assessed rental for the use of these machines.

For instance: Suppose A is furnished with 25 instruments. Each one, Mr. Foster asserts, will do the work of five hands—that is, earn from $80 to $150 per week. Now suppose that the rental of these instruments are fixed at the very low price of $10; then these 25 will pay $250 per week—$6,250 per annum. The prime cost of these machines, he says, will be inside of $2,500—$100 a piece, say 400 per cent. annually. He openly asserts another thing: that he is willing to make a contract that printers alone shall use this instru-ment; that if the type-setters will join him he will rent to none others. There is a feeling which is universal with printers—a fear that the type-setting machine may yet be made by somebody. If Mr. Foster succeeds in proving to them that he is this long looked-for man, this fear is at once made the instrument which accomplishes his ends. It only requires a moment's thought, and but a slight understanding of human will be strongly tempted to accept this plan; for it secures to them the monopoly which the coming of the perfect instrument was feared would could be set except at his pleasure and athis prices—at the beck and nod of such a consolidation as the world has never seen. Now one world has never seen. Now one word to you, type-setters; The argument is used that you will stick to Mr. Foster through thick and thin, because he simply steps in your midst as your leader by securing to you thie monopoly. I don't say that Mr. Foster will include his context with the security to be seen t violate his contract with you, should he make one, but something might happen to make him do it; and when he dies, this great property falls to his heirs. "Are they bound to stick up to his engagements? Most cer-tainly not. Type setters, are you secure in entering into this agreement with our county-man? Are you willing to put into his hands your weal or wee? I think not. Would not the proper course for you to pursue be to stand right still and see what this enterprise is going to your favor—no labor saving machine eyer yet threw men out of employ-ment. So stand still. Don't en-courage him by word or deed. And another fact to which I call your attention: The New York papers have been lavish in their praises of this invention; it has been inspected by the great commercial centre of this continent; why is it that Mr. Foster leaves New York with offers on every side of him, and comes away down here, in a quiet country town, to build up this enterprise? Why did not New York type-setters join him? Is there but one auswer to this question? Because he can here pursue his work quietly, lay all his plans perfectly and without interruption, absorb the work in this town, and then that, till these great centres lay at his mercy and submit to his own terms. This, I have no doubt, is his reason. Throw this power into his reason. Throw this power into his hands, and not a newspaper or book will be published in this country that does not pay tribute into his pockets. The Appletons and Harpers of our land, as well as poor John Smith, the editor of the little country newspaper, becomes his more than slave. With this power in his hands, his thousands of machines acattered broad-sands of machines scattered broad-nature to see that the type say 400 per cent. annually.

CIVIL RIGHTS IN RALEIGH—A NEGRO INVADES A PUBLIC INSTITU-AFFAIR SETTLED WITHOUT BLOOD-SHED.—If there is one circumstance more than another calculated to har-row the feelings of a local editor, it is to be behind his neighbors in sensational items. Wilmington, Nor-folk and Richmond have each en-joyed sensational Civil Rights arti-cles from the daily press, and here we come at the lith hour with ours. In Richmond the reporters followed a couple of negroes from bar room to a couple of negroes from bar from to restaurant, thence to the barber abop, and finally wound up at the Exchange Hotel. What the barkeeper said, the barber said, and the negro said, is all stated. In Norfolk and Wilmington, the programme was about the same; but to our sensation

The clock in the steeple struck 10—
(this incident occured at 10 o'clock or thereabouts.) Yes, 'twas 10 o'clock, the witching hour of day, when banks open, and split-haired runners go forth seeking whom they may devour. As before intimated, it was nigh unto the hour of ten, and was nigh unto the hour of ten, and the portly President of the State National Bank sauntered leisurely forth from his private office in the direction of the front door. Arriving at the counter, he was confronted by a stalwart son of "Africa's Sunny Clime," who, judging from the stream of water cozing from his garments, had been standing at the door in the rain for several hours.

"Spose yer name is Williams is it?"
"My name sir, is Mr. Williams."
"Dat's what I axed you—me'nt no harm,"—"dis is de bank, de State bank isn't it."

Look well, I say, before you leap. I do not say that Mr. Foster will deceive you; but this arrangement puts too much power into one man's hand.

Messrs. Editors —I wish to place the general public, and particularly the printing world, on guard against "Foster's Type-Setting Machine." Every one who has seen this instrument is struck with Rs wonderful ingenuity and perfection of details. The whole instrument is a perfect illustration of thorough work, the deep thought and unsurpassed persistence of the inventor. While these characteristics mark him as an inventor who has no superior, if any equal, they at the same time stamp him as a man who works quietly.

In less than ten years from the date of the charter the Congress of the United States, every State Legislature and every department of the manufactures and arts, will be tributary, if not controlled, by the "Amercan Type setting Machine Company." Beware while there is time, and forget not thoughtlessly, Legislators, the fetters that will bind your own and every sister State in bonds which cannot be broken and which may last through a century. There is danger in this enterprise—in the way in which it is sought to be eliminated. The future will show this. We are too apt to think that because a man has been born and raised in our midst that he is not the equal of the foreigner. Don't be deceived here. If Mr. Foster is at heart the real benefactor which his handlwork not only seems to be, but is, let him resolve to sell these machines to whomsoever will buy, and then future generations will give him that praise which he will so richly deserve.

SENATE.

MARCH 5, 1875. Senate met at 10 o'clock, Lieut. Gov. Armfield in the chair. Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Mangum. Journal of yesterday read and approved.

BILLS INTRODUCED. Mr. Cantwell, a bill to encourage the manufacture of cotton and woolen fabricks in North Carolina. Refer-Mr. Parish, a bill to amend Battle's

Mr. Parish, a bill to amend Battle's Revisal so as to have all fines and forfeitures in the counties paid over to the respective county Treasurers for the benefit of the school fund of the county, instead of sending it to the Public Treasurer. Referred.

Mr. Taylor, a bill to amend an act prohibiting the sale of liquor in townships when the people so determine. Referred.

RESOLUTIONS. Mr. Latham, a resolution permitting the Governor to extend par-don to Mack Rousal, of Tyrrell. Adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE. Mr. Waring arose to a question of privilege on this morning's Sentinet. He read the following extract from that paper: "Except Gudger and Col. Waring, few members have the pluck to put such a load on the North Carolina Road." He said he never expressed any opinion of the merits of any bill before the Senate in connection with this road. The Committee instructed him to make a report, which he had done in behalf of the majority. The statement in the Sentinel was a total misrepresentation, unintentional he supposed, but an entire misrepresentation. His votes on the bill and amendments last winter showed his position, and

Mr. Cooke's bill to repeal secs. 19 and 20, chap. 65, of Battle's Revisal, was considered. This bill provides for the repeal of the agricultural labor lien law, to go into effect Jan.

1st, 1876.
Messrs. Cooke, Peebles and Kerr, favored the repeal, believing that the law had been productive of great damage to the farming interests of the State. During the course of his remarks, Mr. Peebles stated that on one occasion he raid seven cents cash for bacon, when a neighbor, buying under the mortgage system, bought the same bacon, from the same mer-chant, on the same day, and for which he paid fourteen cents. He could not see the good of any usury law when this thing was allowed. Messrs. Cooke and Kerr argued that it was wrong to allow persons to mortgage what did not lexist, as the farmers were now allowed to do upon their crops, as it proved only a mat-ter of speculation.

Messrs. Bell, French, Latham and Legal tender notes. Tucker opposed the repeal. They could not agree with the Senators that the law worked the hardships claimed, but believed it enabled many farmers to cultivate their farms that could not otherwise do so. Pending the question, the special order was called.

THE N. C. R. R. BILL. Mr. McElroy's bill to amend the charter of the N. C. R. R. Co., empowering that road to purchase the A. & N. C. R. R., and to purchase the W. N. C. R. and complete the same to Paint Rock.

Mr. French wanted the bill post-poned until Monday, in order that the Senate might have before it the bill which passed the House yester-day, and both bills be considered at the same time.

Mr. McElroy opposed the postpone-ment. The West demanded some relief from this Legislature, and he thought his bill would not only give his people a railroad, but would enable the N. C. R. R. to save the Construction Bonds, which the State was now compelled to pay or lose its Mr. Graham offered as a substitute

Mr. Gash was not opposed to the objects to be attained by the passage of the bill, and while he favored it, yet he desired its postponement till after the passage of the State debt

Mr. Boyd was willing to favor any legislation that would result to the advancement of the University, but believing that the passage of this bill would be a recognition of the special tax bonds, he felt compelled to opnose it.

Mr. McRae said he was as much opposed to any recognition of the special tax bonds as the gentleman from Alamance, but claimed that the adoption of the bill would in no wise be so considered. He argued at considerable length in favor of the bill, and appealed to the House to come to the rescue of the University by passing the same.

GOV. VANCE.

We published the telegram from this gentleman favoring the call of a Convention. We were always surprised at his holding back. But we never doubted the purity of his motives or the soundness of his judgment. This last has become convinced now, and he no longer delays, but urges it on. He is a man who has a strong hold upon the affections and the respect of the people of the State, and the soundness of his views and the elevation of his patriotism have never been called in question.

As the Wilmington Journal says. "the question is no longer, if it ever was, one of expediency." It is now one of right and duty, and when duty calls, Vance never fails to respond.

THE action of the House on the Arkansas question was decisive, and so emphatic that Grant has no possible justification for assuming the functions of Congress. That body has decided plainly enough to let Arkansas manage her own affairs, endorsing by a vote of 159 to 80 the rightfulness of her government and the regularity of her proceedings. A tribute was paid to the eloquence and the logic of Judge Poland, which was a rare triumph over party passion. His speech won votes from his opponents, and brought men to the support of his views who had all along stuck uncompromisingly to the side of the President. The settlement of this question has a direct interest to North Carolina. It establishes before a tribunal the least likely to admit it, and to the mind of a President the most likely to deny it, the right of a State to amend, alter or revise its Constitution at its own good pleasure, only subject to such limitations as would readily suggest themselves. We hope the lesson is not thrown away.

THE GRANGERS.

Our local columns have given very full details of the important meeting of this body which has just been held in the city. No such body, or for any such purpose, has ever before assembled here, and the occasion is well worthy to be marked as the opening of a new era in the history of the State. It is the first time that any body representing exclusively the farming interest has ever assembled in the State, repreright to expect that igns, and it is sultations of its most intelligent representatives much good is to result. It is through such assemblages that men engaged in any special industry learn to know their wants and deficiencies, and learn at the same time how to supply them. It is not to be denied that isolation and the infrequency of inter-communication has kept farming in the South in much of its primitive state; that it has fostered many prejudices, made farmers averse to improvement, impatient of novelties. distrustful of new suggestions, backward in the adoption of improvements, and retarded the growth of the avocation into a science which necessities almost compel it to become. It is plain that the principles and practices applicable to a new country are worse than useless on worn out land and a crowded population.

But men only learn these things when they come together, interchange views and compare experience. This is what the Grangers have begun to do, and their meeting here is to be regarded as a benefaction to the State. It is the beginning of an industrial reform which will tell at no distant day most significantly upon the property of the State.

Four shipwrecks have occured off Cape Hatterassince December 1st. Cape Hatteras is now connected with the world by telegraphic communication.

As the Wilmington Journal is freely read by members of the Legislature, we direct their attention to the arguments urged by that paper for the aid of the University. We eel sure, however, that this body is too fully sensible of its duties in this matter to need any spur to their interest,

We feel the more interest in the matter just now, because the immediate object of the opening of the University will be for the aid of agricultural knowledge, based upon a fund specially assigned for that purpose; and because the meeting of the Grangers just closed here shows how opportunely that fund can be applied to the advancement of an interest now actively alive to its own development. That interest is the farmer's, and the farmer is the tax-payer. He will never forgive the neglect of such an opportunity, nor will he forgive the needess imposition of the tax wasted to replace the whole fund donated by the government, should the Legslature be so short-sighted as to make that imperative—and imperative it is if the donation is not used according to the terms of the stipu-

THE ADJOURNMENT OF CON-

We have, as we write, but meagre mention of the closing scenes of Congress. We only know of a certainty that its existence is ended, and its power of mischief exhausted. And there is the satisfaction of an additional certainty that the Force Bill died on the table of the Senate, never to be revived. No other Congress, let us hope, can ever so far forget itself as to lend its services to the advancement of a President's ambition, none so lost to the sentiment of patriotism as to sacrifice a country for the good of a

A great danger has been averted, so far as depends upon Congressional action, and the country is liberated from the dread apprehension of the overthrow of its liberties. We cannot now believe that the President, disarmed as he has been, deprived of his willing coadjutors, and confronted by a new body in direct antagonism to his ambitious views, will undertake to push his measures in the interim of Congress. Questions upon which he based his meditated actions have been decided for him. There is no plausibility for any pretense to intermeddle farther in the affairs of Louisiana. The report of the Posustained by a large majority, and the government of that State is declared to be legal, and the enforcement of its laws regular and impartial. The Alabama report was so much weakened by the demonstration of its wholesale mendacity with it. And the questions of these most obnoxious States being settled, there is no ground for interference with them, far less with others where the grounds of offense were purely fictitious. A fair opening is before the country, only to be darkened by that shadow which has hung over the past, which is only being lifted in the present, and which may fall again upon the future, or be altogether dispelled. It is an anomaly in a professedly free government that its fate has come to depend upon the will of one man; that his caprices or his passions should be tude as the number the same solicityrant, and that laws and tions are made to bend with flexible servility to his will, no longer walls of adamant or barriers of that it carries no weight whatever

With the President disarmed, and the Congress dispersed, there is at least the prospect of a better day before us, even though that Congress has left its "legacy of revenge" in the Civil Rights Bill. But even with that, patience and fortitude may carry the South through its additional trial.

EDITORS VS. SENATORS.-Since Parson Brownlow, of Tennessee, has left the United States Senate and gone back to his old vocation of ournalism, his understanding seems o have been restored to its natural condition. He says, commenting on the remark that he is the only unreturned Senator who is not indulging in lamentations and regrets of ill-natured comments on his ill luck in ceasing to be a member of Congress that he is getting up in the world he is promoted; he is now in a posi tion of far more power and respecta-bility than being a member of Congress. THE WEONG SIDE OF THE MERIPIAN.

On the down hill side of life, which an old old medical writer quainty terms "the wrong side of the meridian," when the functions decay and the frame gradually bends under the weight of years, the system requires to be sustined under the burden imposed upon it. Innumerable physical aliments an immraties the press upon it to which it had been in explier life a stranger. The surest and pleasantest support and soluce of declining years is found in Hostetter's Stormach Bitters, long recognized as the most wholesome and agreeable of diffusible stimulants, the most potent of tonics and alteratives. The aged and infirm may place implicit confidence in this invigorating clixir, which not only checks those maladies to which elixer, which not only checks those maladies to which elixer, which not only checks those maladies to which elixer, which not only checks those maladies to which elixery persons are peculiarly subject, but in a measure retards the encroachment of time upon the constitution:

We call the attention of farmers to ou justly celebrated Wilson "Ootton" and "Universal" turn plow and claim it has no equal as a Cultivator and Turn Plow The Cotton Plow saving fully ½ of the labor, doing the work better, leaving the labor, and to laborer and horse. The casting are made only from the best, new pli iron and last much longer than any other in many cases two points only being required to make a full grop of cotton and corn. We give below a few of the many certificates from the best farmers of our country, who have fully tested them.

J. P. Edmonson, Johnston County, says:

The Cotton Plow saves fully % of the labor and is the only cast plow that will do the work. I prefer it to the wrought sweep. The "Universal" Plow is the best turn plow made.

Capt. Joe Young, Wake County Your "Wilson" Cotton and "Turn" Plows are the best castings I ever used and no farmer can afford to be without them.

Tom Bridgers, Wake County, says: I am satisfied after a through trial, your Cotton plow is the only cast plow made that is a through cultivator and is +s near perfection as can be. The "Universal" as a turn plow is in every way equal to the "Wait," and will not choke in any of our lands, and is lighter, thereby saving feel and stock.

Daniel Stewart, Harnett County, says:

"I want no better plow, have used them for years and know them to be all you claim for them, every farmer ought to have them. I cannot farm without them. Dr. Wilder, Wake County, says:

"Your "Cetton Plow" is the best I even used, and the "Turn" Plow can't be ex celled, I must have more of them." James T. Leach, Jr., Johnston

County, says: "The "Cultivator Plow" is the only plow use, is good as I want,"

Col. J. W. B. Watson, Raleigh, N. C., says :

"Send me six more of your "Universal" Plows, as a turn plow they are unequaled, and the Cotton Plow is the only cultivator
I can use to any advantage with our present system of labor and the "grass."

L. H. Sanders, Johnston County, "The best plow in the world." I use hem all through my crop, both corn and

H. H. Coats, Johnston county, says: "I save fully ½ of my plowing, and do the balance easier and better." I would buy them at any price."

N. V. Denton, Raleigh, says: "I refused to buy your plow for a long ime from prejudice to cast works, for cot-on, but after a fair trial I think them the est plow made, I want six more."

Ammoniated South Sea Guano. Soluble B. M. RHODES & CO., Office 82 South Street, Baltimore.

Analysis made by order of Prof. W. C. KERR, State Geologist of North Carolina, by Dr. F. A. GENTH, University of Pennsylvanis at Philadelphia, Chemical Laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania.

I have analyzed as follows:—"I Sample of "Soluble Amnoulated South Sea Guano prepared for Cotton by B. M. RHODES & CO., 82 South Street, Baltimore, 182 lbs.," MOISTURE, SOLUBLE PROSPRIORIO ACID, 4.32 " equivalent to 9.43 pr. ct. of Bone Phosphate of Lime Prospriated, "7.16" 15.63" " 15.63" " Ammonia.

PROSPHORIO ACID. - 28.86 pr. ct., equivalent to 58 64 pr. ct. of Bone Phosphate of Lin Both samples were certified to having been taken, sealed and sent by Thos. HARR Hongra, Notary Public, and were in perfect condition. F. A. GENTH. Professors TONRY, LIEBIG and MALLET say of the Orchifla Guano

The Orchilla, which seems to be an organic deposit, can be recommended to the farme for use in its crude state, and after a careful and complete analysis, as well as a thorough examination of the mechanical condition, as well as from the testimony of several when have used it in its crude state, and have expressed to me their entire satisfaction. I fee perfectly justified in recommending the Orchilla.

W. P. TON RY, Prof. Anal. and App'ld Chemistry, Maryland Institute.

This material decidedly recon.mends itself to the attention of farmers by its large proportion of Phosphoric Acid, being in a form to be much more easily taken up by growing plants than that of the harder and more compact Mineral Phosphates. Farmers can themselves very easily add Peruvian Guano, Cotton Seed, Mill Refuse or other material affording Nitrogen when it is desired to combine the effort of Ammoniacal with that of Phosphatic Manure. men, respectfully yours, J. W. MALLET, Charlottsville, Va.

RALEIGH, N. C., January 29 1875.

From the Analysis of Dr. Genth there is no doubt of the high per centage of Phosphate of Lime in this Guano, and I endorse the recommendations of Prof. MALLETT upon the above testimony of himself and Prof. LIERIG & Toway as to its physical condition that it offers a desirable source of Phosphoric Acid to Cotton Farmers and others who have the means of furnishing the Nitrogenized matter at home.

speech of Mr. J. S. Reid, of Meck-lenburg, in the House of Repre-sentatives, Pending the Discussion of the Uusury Bill.

MR. SPEAKER: -I have not here-ofore consumed the time of this House, and do not propose now to make any lengthened remarks, and but for the importance of the bill under consiceration, I would not say one word. I am opposed to the bili, sir, not from the fact that there has een any person or number of per-gns from Charlotte or from Mecklenburg county, dodging behind these pillars and clamoring against the pasage of this bill, as the gentleman rom Davidson charges there would be. Sir, if there has been one such person here from Mecklenburg, I have failed to see him. No sir, I oppose it from other motives, from an honest, conscientious sense of duty to the people of North Carolina, as I concelve it. Now sir, what is interest? I understand it to be a sum of money paid or agreed to be paid for the use of capital, in whatever form that capimay assume. Capital may be oaned in any form, and interest upon it is simply the profits of capial, and the demand for it is always condition precedent to the profit arising from it and the renumeration or the use of capital will always be more or less, according to the supply and demand, and the risk of the captalist. Again sir, this law is for the benefit of a class; under a usury law capitalist cannot receive more than prescribed rate of interest, but it does not, nor cannot secure to him that amount, for I think sir, we can con-ceive of such a condition of financial affairs, as that capital would not command so high a rate as that pres cribed, and in that event would the law secure the lender in the rate prescribed? Not at all. You fall

ack then upon the law of supply and demand.

I am willing to admit that the rate of interest is high, more so than it should be, but I believe there are causes for it, great underlying causes, that the passage of this bill will not remove, nor do I believe that the rate of interest depends upon the mere enactment of a law, under ordinary circumstances. Sir, in the usual cause of affairs, the rate of interest will vary but little, such was the case in our State in ante bellum imes when capital was abundant, hen the lender sought'a borrower. For long years our rate of interest did not vary, but as I iemarked, there are causes that do operate in bring-ing about an elevation or depression, higher or lower rate. We often see this the case, where stringent usury laws prevail. In New York, for instance, how often do we see the rate vary, and in a few days advance from a low to a very high interest. Now, sir, what I ask, is our condition? What causes have operated to impose upon us our high rate of interest? I say, in an-swer, that any cause affecting the supply and demand of capital will lead to variations, or change the rate of interest; adversity befalling a peo-ple, diminishing or destroying their capital will have this tendency, and is useless to say that adversity has befallen us; we know that a cruel relentless war has swept over our country, with all its desolating in-fluences, laying waste our property, our capital of every kind. As a result of that war, our circulating medium was destroyed, or at least so depreplated as to be almost worthless, our whole banking system destroyed, and a new system inaugurated by the United States government, under which instead of the amount in circulation before the war, we have scarcely one-sixth part of it to supply the increased wants of a larger population, with every branch of industry completely prostrate and writhing under the merciless hand of the government, through those long years of reconstruction through which we passed; instead of accumu-lations of capital being made from the common industry of the country, we struggled for years for a bare maintenance. So much, sir, for extraordinary circumstances as affecaffecting out rate of interest.

Again, I say, sir, that a want of confidence in the administration of public affects.

public affairs has much to do with on account of changes, they are led to demand greater interest on account of greater risk. Now, sir, I need not say that this want of confidence does exist. I need not speak of the acts of government, both State and National, that have had a tendency to impair this confidence in government and between man and man, undoing today what was done yesterday, reconstructing and setting aside reconstruction; construing laws to mean one thing to-day and another thing to-morrow. I say all this must and will affect the price of money, for capital, we all know, is timid and seeks safety, and as the feeling of in-security increases, the rate will be higher, as an insurance against increased risk. One other point I wish to notice. Allusion was made on yesterday by the gentleman from Richmond to our agricultural system as being wrong; in this I concur. We are an argicultural people, emphatically so, and yet, sir, we present the sad spectacle of not being a self-sus-taining people. I mean by this that we fall far short of producing our own supplies; with our soil and climate, capable of producing almost every article of necessity, and with such production we might and should be the most independent people on earth, yet, under our system, we are the most dependent, pursuing a course we know is wrong and ruinous, but still pursue it. At the close of the war, instead of adapting ourselves to our surroundings, we at-tempted to do just as our fathers did, cultivate our broad acres, with our system of labor disorganized, and every thing in confusion; allured by the high price of our great staple, we were led to stake our very existence upon the throw of a single die, the cultivation of a single crop to the exclusion of all others; thus the far-mers themselves became cotton speculators only to meet disappointment after disappointment, and to find themselves sinking deeper and deeper in the mire and slough of debt, and thus, instead of a general accumulation of capita! from the common industry of the country, instead of a surplus, our country is an-nually depleted, and we labor to en-rich the shoddy-sharpers of New England and meat and grain growers of the west. Instead of annual accumulations at the end of each year, we stand empty-handed asking for help. The supply of capital is not thus increased, nor the demand diminished, and consequently a high rate of interest prevails. The fault to my mind is in a great measure due to our system. Now sir, I only desire to say further that I am satisfied our rate of interest is more than a farm. mulations at the end of each year, we rate of interest is more than a farming people can bear successfully, and no one on this floor would be more rejoiced to see cheaper money than myself, but I am far from believing the passage of this bill will result in cheaper money. I do not think it will have the effect its friends claim for it. Instead of a panacea for the ills under which we labor, instead of remedying the evil, I much fear wide-spread embarrassment, confusion and in many cases ruin absolute, will follow the passage of this bill, and in a matter of such moment and importance, a matter affecting so vitally the interest of North Carolina, I say it becomes representatives upon this sons, I am compelled to vote against the bill. Consumptives, Take Notice.—Every moment of delay makes your cure more hopeless, and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine, see Dr. Schenck's Almanac, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged stored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpo-e. These additional remedies are schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Manirake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any case of Consumption may be cured.

I HO THO

The Guanahani Guano Company has seen fit to publish a card to the effect that our "Cat Island Guano" is of an inferior quality to their importations, and had been rejected by them. From the reputation of the signers of that card, we presume they did not know that this statement was false. We propose to prove to the satisfaction of that Company and of the public the following facts, viz:

1st. That their agent at the Islands attempted (AWD FAILED) to get control of deposits of Guano that were secured by a member of our firm who is now at the Islands.

2d. That our Cat Island Guano, according to the analysis of Professor White, of the University of Georgia, (who analyzed for the Guanahani Company,) is at least the equal of the Guano imported and sold by the Guanahani Company last spring in the cotton sections of Virginia and North Carolina.

Our Guano shall stand or fall by the crucial test of the analytical chemist, and not by cards put out on the eve of the planting season. We will have each cargo analyzed before its receives our brand, or is offered the public, and we will publish the report of the chemist. We invite the Guanahani Company to publish the analyses of each of the various lots offered or sold by them last spring, that the public may decide,

We have been unabled to avoid the mistakes that the inexperience of the Guanahani Company betrayed finem into last year. We are not taxed with the snormous expenses for salaries, &c., paid by them, and with one of our firm on the Island, and one of the most experienced Guano men in the country as our General Agent, we are astisfied we can beat them in quality and price. We challenge them to meet us in the laboratory or on the plantation; and until they can compete with us successfully in these tests, their paper attacks will not but the best natural Guano (except Peruvian) yet offered to the public.

They write about "their standard!" We have taken proper steps in the Courts to protect ourselves from any injury arising from the improper publication of the Guan RICHMOND, VA., February 25th, 1875.

Having been appointed Agents for the sale of the above valuable Fertilizer, we take pleasure in recommending it to our planting friends as one of the -PUREST and best adapted cotton and corn manures known to the farming interests.

It has been fully tested for several years with the most satisfactory results. It has been carefully analyzed by eminent Chemists, and found to contain a large per entage of concentrated vegetable matter, combined richly with which constitute its component parts. It is particularly adapted to thin or exhausted lands, and while its judicious application will give the desired vigor to the growing plants, its great value will be revised in the quality and quantity.

is no new or untried manure. It has been before the public for upwards of ten years, during which time it has been steadily growing in reputation, until it is now universally recognized as one of the most uniformly reliable concentrated fertilizers in the market. It is manufactured from the best and purest raw materials, every one of which is subjected to chemical analysis before being used. The purity of the fertilizer is thus assured. In addition to this, every step of its manufacture is conducted under the strictest chemical supervision, so that farmers are thus guarded at every point from any danger of using an inferior article. On

The Senate Sworn In-Morton at His Tricks.

WASHINGTON, March 5 .- SENATE -As soon as the new Senators were sworn in Morton offered a resolution acknowledging Kellogg as Governor of Louisiana and for the admission of Pinchback as Senator from that State. The resolution was laid over. He gave notice that he would call up the latter perhaps on Monday.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES. FROM WASHINGTON.

The Assembling of the New Senate

WASHINGTON, March 5 .- SENATE. At no time since the inauguration day has such a crowd as this morning witnessed the opening of the exsession of the Senate and the swearing in of the new Senators. The weather was disagreeable, and severe snow storm prevailed. The ladies were not deterred. The galleries were filled with ladies long before the hour of meeting. By 11 o'clock it was impossible to obtain standing room even in the door-

Ways. Upon the floor of the Senate curious visitors were hunting out the seats of Andrew Johnson, General Burnside and other prominent Sena-tors, who were to be sworn in. Upon the desk of Andrew Johnson, on the Democratic side of the Chamber, as well as upon that of Mr. Dawes, on the Republican side, were handsome Burnside entered the Chamber and was greeted with a round of aplause by the galleries.

Andrew Johnson did not make his appearance until after the meet-ing of the Senate. When he was ing of the Senate. When he was called up to take the oath he was greeted with applause, which was soon checked by the Vice-President.

At 12 o'clock Vice-President Wilson called the Senate to order. Chaplain Sunderland in opening prayer invoked the divine blessing upon the Senate, saying: "As these Senators are assembled here to com-mence a new chapter in the history of this body, give to each of them life, health and strength, and in all their labors and responsibilities may they lean upon Thy arm for sup-

Major McDonald, chief clerk, then read the proclamation of the President convening the Senate in extra session, after which the Vice President directed him to call the names of the new Senators. As called they advanced to the Vice-President's desk and were sworn in in groups of three or four as follows: Bayard of Delaware, Bruce of Mississippi, Burnside of Rhode Island, Cameron of Wisconsin, Christiancy of Michigan, Dawes of Massachusetts, Eaton of Connecticut, Edmunds of Verof Connecticut, Edmunds of Vermont, Hamlin of Maine, Johnson of Tennessee, Kerman of New York, McMillan of Minnesota, McDonald of Maryland, Paddock of Nebraska, Randolph of New Jersey, Thurman of Ohio, Wallace of Pennsylvania, Whyte of Maryland, Caperton of West Virginia, Cockerill of Missouri, Jones of Florida, Maxey of Texas and Withers of Virginia. The last named five taking the modified oath, they having been engaged in the Confederate cause.

The new Senators were nearly all

The new Senators were nearly all escorted to the Vice-President's desk by their colleagues. After the oath had been administered to Johnson, a handsome boquet was handed to him by a page, with whom it had been left by some friend of the ex-President.

Messrs. Booth, of California, and Sharan, of Nevada, not having reached the city, did not respond when their names were called.

After administering the oath of ice, Vice-President Wilson shook hands with each Senator.

The new Senators having all been sworn and seated, Anthony submitted an order that the daily hour of meeting he 12 clock. meeting be 12 o'clock. Agreed to.
Edmunds submitted a resolution providing for the appointment of a Committee of two Senators to wait upon the President and inform him that a quorum had assembled, and that the Senate was ready to receive any communication from him. Messrs. Edmunds and Stevenson were appointed as the Committee. Morton, of Indiana, submitted the following, which was read and laid

Resolved by the Senate, That the State Government, now existing in Louisiana, and represented by Wm. P. Kellogg, as Governor, is lawful Governor of said State; that it is Republican in form, and that every assistance necessary to sustain its proper and lawful authority in said State should be given by the United States when properly called upon for that purpose to the end that the laws may be faithfully and promptly executed; life and property protected and defended, and all violation of law, State or National, be brought to speedy punishment, for their crimes He also offered the following:

Resolved, That P. B. S. Pinchback be admitted as a Senator from the State of Louisiana for the term of six years, beginning on the 4th of March

He (Morton) asked that it be laid on the table, and gave notice that he would call it up for consideration at an early day, perhaps Monday.

Anthony moved that when the Senate adjourn to-day, it be to meet on Monday next.

Hamlin of Maine, said the Senate might as well meet to-morrow. It was well known that there was a necessity for re-organizing the Comnittees and it might as well be done this week as next. The motion of Anthony was agreed Upon motion of Frelinghuysen at 12:20 the Senate took a recess till I o'clock. Upon re-assembling, Hoar and Edmunson, from the Committee to wait upon the President, reported that they had performed that duty and the President replied the he would communicate with the Senate on Monday next. Adjourned till Monday.

The Workings of the Civil Rights in Wilmington—The Civil Righter Loses His "Pint."

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 5 .-The first case here under the Civil Rights bill, came up before U. S. Commissioner E. H. Quigg, to-day. A negro named Francis Holmes had W. H. Gerkin, a Saloon keeper, arrested for refusing to sell him a drink. The Commissioner dismissed the case on the ground that the Civil Rights bill did not apply to bar-

Church Matters. READING, PA., March 5.—The Standing Committee of the Pennsylvania Diocese stand 6 to 1 against De Koven. The Committee unanimously support Jagger.

New Orleans, March 5.—The Diocese of Louisiana consent to the confirmation of Jagger, but withhold their consent from De Koven. Weather Probabilities. WASHINGTON, March 5.—For the South Atlantic States falling barometer, northerly winds, shifting to southwesterly, and occasional rain.

SEWERAGE OF CITIES.—Boston is about to start a system of sewerage which will cost over a million of dollars. The drainage is not to be into the Mystic river, but into the ocean above Mystic beach. In this manner, the filth and impurities of the city will be removed from any possible location deleterious to the health or comfort of the people of Boston. This is an important point to be gained. When a city is drained into a small stream, the waters of the same become poisoned, infect the air, and spread disease and death in all directions. This is a well-known fact, and Roston acts wisely in mapping out a system of sewerage that will avoid such a consummation.—Baltimore American.

Says the Petersburg Index and Appeal: "There are about six thousand papers and periodicals published in the United States. The President's organ foots up of these some thirty or forty which sustain the course of the adminstration in regard to the South. Most of them are very obscure, and all are more or less dependent on government patronage for their support.

IMPOBLED ONTA BALHE

GUANAHANI GUANO COMPANY, PETERSBURG, VA.

In offering this FERTILIZER to the Agricultural Community a Second Season we do so with the utmost confidence, feeling satisfied that the high opinion, we formed, an expressed last season based on its Chemical Constituents, have been most satisfactoril borne out by the test, by which all Fertilizers must be judged, that of the Plantation.

Last season, owing to the lateness at which we commenced importing, we were force to put our Guano on the market at once, but now having continued our importation during the summer and fall, and having large and well ventilated Warehouses in the city of Petersburg and at City Point, we are enabled to put our Guano on the market in a condition as to dryness and freedom from lumps, equal to any Manufactured Fertilizer.

We solicit a careful perusal of our Circular containing the certificates sent us, and which can be had on application at this OFFICE, or from anyof our AGENTS. Having nothing to conceal, we made no innovation on established usage, by publishing those letters received unfavorable to our Guano, but careful inquiry in many cases proves that the cause of its failure was not owing to any fault in the Guano, but to those far beyond our control. We have frequently heard the same complaints of its kindred Fertilezer, Peruvion Guano, but the concurrent testimony of well known Farmers and Planters from Maryland to the extreme Western counties of North Carolina, justify us in claiming place for our Fertilizer Superior to many, and skcond to NONE.

We confidently expect the continued patronage of the Agricultural Community and no exertion will be spared on our part to make
